M'PHERSON FOR GOVERNOR

ADAMS CO. REPUBLICAN CONVENTION SO INSTRUCTS.

Lafean Endorsed For Congress and Congressional Conference Named in His Interest.

The Republican County Convention to select delegates to the State Convention to be held on June 7 and name congressional conferees convened in the Court House on Monday morning about 11 a. m. In several districts legal primaries had not been held but there being citizens from such townships present they were on vote admitted to the convention. On roll call all but five districts had one or more delegates in attendance.

County Chairman D. P. McPherson called meeting to order and Secretary C. Wm. Reales read call. Roll call then followed.

Chairman McPherson said he was glad to see so many present and interest taken, while business was brief it was important.

For permanent organization G. Wilmer Koser of Biglerville, was named as President of convention by a rising unanimous vote. C. W. Gardner of York Springs and Martin Baker of Liberty, escorted him to the chair.

John W. Benner of Mountjoy, and Henry Hantz of Reading, were chosen Vice Presidents and Wm. P. Baker of Berwick and H. H. Mertz of Gettysburg secretaries.

President Koser appointed as Committee on Resolutions, Geo. W. Baker of Berwick borough, J. W. Garlach of Gettysburg, Geo. W. Irwin of Highland, Albert K. Stock of Littlestown, and John M. Krichen of McSherrytown. This committee at once retired.

While awaiting return of Committee on Resolutions C. L. Myers of Reading, and James Haldeman of Butler, took up a collection for the janitor which amounted to $5.12.

The Committee on Resolutions reported the following which were unanimously adopted:

Resolutions.

We, the Republicans of Adams county, in convention assembled, resolve as follows:

We cordially endorse the wise, patriotic and just administration of President Roosevelt and the policies now being enacted into law by the influence and power of his advocacy.

We approve the conservative and efficient administration of Governor Pennypacker and congratulate him upon his statesmanship and courage evidenced by his calling the Legislature of Pennsylvania in extra session. We heartily approve the legislation enacted at the extra session believing that it will be of great and permanent benefit to the whole Commonwealth.

We endorse the honorable, fearless and independent course of our State Senator, Hon. D. P. McPherson, and we believe that his most enviable record of the past six years in the Legislature and State Senate has made him the most available candidate in the state for the office of Governor of this Commonwealth and with him as our standard bearer we would again place our great state as the keystone of Republicanism before the people. We instruct the delegates this day elected to give him not only their votes but their most hearty support at the State Convention on June 6.

We also endorse the course of our members of the Legislature feeling that they have represented our county in an able and honorable manner.

We especially commend our able and active Representative in Congress, Hon. Daniel F. Lafean. His tireless and successful attention to the interests of his constituents, irrespective of party associations in the transaction of public business, his consideration of the welfare of the district as shown by his course on questions of public policy and his ability, courtesy and prompt disposition of business, have earned for him the approval of the entire citizenship of the 20th Congressional District. We most heartily endorse him for re-nomination and name as congressional conferees Calvin Gilbert of Gettysburg, H. G. Blocher of

MET DEATH BY ACCIDENT

DRAGGED A MILE AND A HALF BY MULE IN RUNAWAY.

Death Comes to Samuel Young When Nearing the Four Score and Ten Mark.

Franklin K. Sharretts a popular young man living near Bruceville, Md., met with a horrible accident resulting in his death on Saturday, May 19. He was driving with a young man named Johnson to Taneytown on Saturday evening about 8 o'clock. As they entered Frederick street the mule became frightened and unmanageable. Wheeling sharply around throwing out both occupants. Johnson was unhurt but Mr. Sharretts was caught by his feet between the cart seat and axle and dragged about a mile and a half at a very rapid gait. What caused the runaway Mr. Johnson does not know as the affair happened very suddenly and apparently without real cause. A party started at once after the runaway and found Mr. Sharretts but he was so badly injured about the body and head that he died almost as soon as found. The body was removed at once to home of his brother, Luther T. Sharretts, of Bruceville. Services were conducted on Tuesday morning of last week by Rev. W. E. Wherley of Taneytown, assisted by Rev. R. S. Poffenberger of Woodsboro. Deceased was a member of the Lutheran church at Taneytown and was aged 45 years, 1 month and 28 days. He is survived by three sisters and three brothers, Mrs. F. S. Cromer of Cumberland township, Mrs. Jacob F. Waybright of Freedom township, Mrs. Marshall Maring, Edmund F. and Luther T. Sharretts of Bruceville, and D. A. Sharretts of Woodsboro. Six nephews were pall-bearers. William and Upton Maring, Harvey and Upton Cromer, and Oliver and Frank Waybright.

Nominations for delegates to State Convention being called for P. M. Brunner of Gettysburg, F. M. Miller of New Oxford, and Daniel Coleman of Straban, were named and ballot in charge of Chas. Hafer and Allen B. Trostle as tellers resulted as follows: Bruner 48, Miller 44 and Coleman 19. Convention then adjourned.

Judging from resolutions it looks as though one of the county representatives in the last Legislature would be the Republican nominee this fall. As there will be only one nominee both can not be named. Which shall it be? It looks like Longsdorff.

Hurt by Explosion in Quarry.

Jacob M. Myers, Jacob Winters and George Ackerman, three quarrymen employed by C. D. Smith of McSherrytown, were seriously injured last Friday morning by being blown up by an explosion.

The men were in the act of drilling out a charge of rock powder which had been loaded, but which failed to explode at the first attempt. After a lapse of three hours the men started to drill out the charge preparatory to reloading. Just then the explosion occurred, throwing the men from a scaffold ten feet high, on which they were standing at the time.

Mr. Myers received almost the entire contents of the charge, which struck his right leg, breaking it above the knee and terribly mangle the flesh.

Mr. Winters, the foreman of the gang, was seriously burned on his face and body, while Mr. Ackerman was blown several feet away into the quarry and was considerably cut and bruised about the body, arms and face.

The drill which Mr. Myers was holding was blown a distance of several hundred feet. The clothing of the three men caught fire, which Winters and Ackerman extinguished with some difficulty. A stretcher was procured and Mr. Myers was carried to his home on the Oxford road close by and Drs. George L. and A. C. Rice and Dr. R. N. Meisenholder telephoned for, who promptly responded and rendered the necessary treatment.

Mr. Myers is the most severely injured. It is hoped by the physicians that amputation of the injured leg may be avoided.

Monsters Winter and Ackerman are painfully but not so seriously injured. Later report says no serious complications are expected and the men will fully recover from the shock and its effects.

Married Fifty-Five Years.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Biddle, formerly of Gettysburg, now residing near New Oxford, who are well and favorably known, celebrated the 55th anniversary of their marriage recently by having all their children, grandchildren and great-grand-children present. Those present were: W. E. Biddle and family, Hanover; E. H. Biddle and family, East Berlin. Mrs. Annie White and family, C. White and wife, Hanover; T. C. Biddle, wife and children, Mrs. Isaac Kaufman and 3 children, C. K. Hartzell and wife, C. E. Sheds, wife and son, Miss Carrie Williams, Philip Hoffman, Gettysburg; Miss Carrie Coover, Tallahassee, Fla.

Blas Label League.

The Cigarmaker's Blue Label League met in Reading last week. One of the most important matters acted upon was the raising of the per capita tax to protect the Union label. An amendment to the constitution and bylaws was added to set aside 25 percent of the per capita tax to create a fund for the prosecution of manufacturers who use bogus union labels on their cigar boxes and the per capita tax was raised from three to four cents a month on each member of the league. I. B. Kuhn, J. E. Smith, Harry Niederer and John Hipp of McSherrytown were delegates to League.

HO! FOR THE CIRCUS

Will Exhibit Here on Next Friday Afternoon & Evening.

Are you going to the circus Friday? If not you will miss a fine circus treat for all who have seen Lowry Bros. show pronounce it the Barnum of small shows. The price of admission has been placed within the reach of all, 10 and 20 cents and the features produced are worth twice that sum. One who has seen Lowry Bros. circus says that he has attended larger exhibitions, paid a greater price and seen a good deal less. The show is a good one and the readers of the COMPILER should remember this and turn out in full force Friday. Go early and see the balloon ascension. The show will exhibit in Tawney's field. Read the advertisement. Special school children matinee 5 cents in the afternoon.

Delightful Concert.

Every one at the concert in Bruch Chapel on last Wednesday came away charmed with the delightful entertainment. Domenico Bove, the Italian boy and his violin thrilled the audience. John Lane Smith had a wonderful soprano voice. Robert Armstrong the 9 year old boy pianist, simply took the house by storm. Mr. Lewars at the piano and in management has produced a rare entertainment.

A very interesting game of ball was played at Willow Brook Farm near Bonneauville, between the Hardy Able Club, consisting of five girls and the Country Tigers consisting of seven boys. The score was nine to nothing in favor of the Hardy Able Club.

POST MEMORIAL SERVICES

CONDUCTED ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON BY REV. W. W. HARTMAN

Four Veterans Mustered Out of Life During the Year—Records Read.

Corporal Skelly Post Grand Army of the Republic held Memorial services in the Post Hall on Sunday afternoon, Rev. W. W. Hartman conducting the services. The meeting began with the reading of the record of the four veterans who died during the year.

Wm. Gunn was born in Cumberland township and was a resident of Gettysburg for many years of his life. He entered the service of the U. S. April 14, 1861 as a private in Co. E 2nd Regt. Pa. Vol. Inf. and was finally discharged in July 1861, having served 90 days until expiration of his term of enlistment. He joined Corporal Skelly post G. A. R. June 9, 1902.

Henry Swope of Gettysburg was born in Adams County and followed occupation of miller for a number of years. He entered the service of the U. S. on August 27, 1861 as a private in Co. I 5th Regt. Pa. Vol. Inf. and was finally discharged from the service on July 13, 1865 on account of disability having served three years and eleven months. He joined Corporal Skelly Post June 1882.

John Arentz of Mt Joy township was mustered into the service Nov. 5, 1862 at Gettysburg for nine months as a private in Co. G 16th Pa. Regt. Vol. Inf. and was finally discharged from service on July 28, 1863 by reason of expiration of service. He participated in following battles and skirmishes, Deserted House near Suffolk, Va., Skirmish on Jamestown road, Siege of Suffolk, Va., Beaver Dam near Franklin, Carsville. Was never wounded, confined in hospital or taken prisoner.

Isaiah Orr was mustered in at Camp Couch near Harrisburg June 24, 1863 as Quartermaster Sergeant of Co. B. 21st Regt. Pa. Cal. for six months and discharged at expiration of his term of enlistment February 20th, 1864. He says in the record given in to post of his service "I was never engaged in any battle, consequently was never wounded, confined in a hospital or taken prisoner."

Rev. Hartman took for the text of his sermon to the veterans 17th verse of 6th chapter of Galatians: "From henceforth let no man trouble me; for I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus." The message of the sermon was the marks of loyalty.

The language of the text was that of Apostle Paul, a consecrated man. He gloried in these evidences of his devotion to his Master. He had marks of the trying experiences of 20 years in the service of his Lord. "Five times I received of the Jews 40 stripes save one, thrice was I beaten with rods," then there were the many perils on land and sea through which he passed. The aged apostle looked upon these marks as badges of loyalty.

The veterans of our wars bear honorable marks of service. When they entered the army they laid their lives on the altar of their country. The nation can never forget their heroism and splendid achievements. The marks of the American soldier have ever been valor and humanity. By the blessing of God the soldiers of the coming days will bear the same marks. God calls to a higher service. The rewards of the soldier of the Cross are sure. The joys of earth are his and a crown of glory by and bye.

INCORPORATED HUNTING CLUB

Adams County Hunters Will Hunt Deer on Their Own Grounds.

Adams county can boast of a unique corporation in the "Arendtsville and Buchanan Valley Hunting Club." A small notice appeared in these columns of a charter for such a corporation and at a recent session of Court the charter was granted, but back of these legal steps lies a very interesting story.

The Arendtsville and Buchanan Valley Hunting Club will hunt deer hereafter on their own ground as they have acquired half the title to a very large tract of mountain land, one of the best hunting grounds, containing over 1,300 acres. It lies near the old Miltenberger saw mill and the head waters of the Conococheague are on the land.

Years ago a brother of Dr. C. E. Goldsborough of Hunterstown and a certain Joseph Marshall bought this tract of land for a song. Marshall was a rover and did not remain long in county. The Goldsborough interest was sold to Hon. Chas. H. Dutters, who several years ago sold his half interest to the State of Pennsylvania. It was supposed when the State acquired the half interest it would be interested in obtaining the entire title. It was interested to the extent of making an exhaustive search for whereabouts of Joseph Marshall and the investigation led up to conclusion that he was dead.

As Joseph Marshall had no known heirs his estate would escheat to the State of Pennsylvania. Mr. Dutters became the informer to the State of such escheated estate and Robt. E. Wible became escheator and administrator of Joseph Marshall.

As the proceedings progressed it seemed more certain that the State would become the owner of other half of tract. But when it was offered to the Forestry Department at same price that had been paid for other adjacent land a refusal was encountered and a public sale became necessary. A State officer was at sale and when the bid went up to $1.95 for the half interest per acre he quit bidding, and it was knocked down to a committee of the Arendtsville Hunting Club. This committee had been instructed to go a little higher. At a cost of over $2,600 the Arendtsville Hunting Club became the owner of half interest in the big tract of land. At 5 per cent. interest the Club is willing to pay what will be an annual rental of $125 for the rare pleasure and sport of deer shooting on their own grounds.

The Club is the oldest club in county and has owned its own camping grounds for a number of years. It has 33 members. Edward Hall is President of club, N. R. Beamer Secretary and S. Mc. Eicholtz Treas. The other members are John Hall, Sr., John Hall, Jr., Calvin Thomas, John D. Kane, J. C. D. Lower, Samuel Hall, Samuel Kraft, A. Lerew, James Cole, Frank Cole, C. F. Arendt, E. H. Lower, Dr. Elliott Lower, J. F. Taylor, J. R. Weaver, James F. Bell, John Brady, Hanson Oyer, J. W. Eicholtz, James Wise, C. B. Tate, Peter Bruner, John Kimpke, Lewis Ramer, John Wisotzkey, Chas. Strausbaugh, M. E. Zinn, Wm. P. Devine, Vincent Bushman and Hiram Eichelberger.

LIMB RAW AS PIECE OF BEEF

Suffered For Three Years With Itching Humor—Doctor Did No
Good—Cruiser Newark, U. S. N.
Man Cured in Three Weeks.

SPEEDY CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I suffered with humor for about three years, off and on. I finally saw a doctor and he gave me remedies that did me no good, so I tried Cuticura when my limb below the knee to the ankle was as raw as a piece of beef. All I used was the Cuticura Soap and the Ointment. I bathed with the Soap every day and used about five or seven boxes of Ointment. I was thoroughly cured of the humor in three weeks and haven't been affected since. I use no other Soap than Cuticura now. I remain, yours respectfully, H. J. Myers, U. S. N., U. S. S. Newark, New York, July 5, 1905. "P. S. Publish if you wish."

CUTICURA GROWS HAIR Cruised Scapls Cleaned and Purified by Cuticura Soap

Assisted by light dressings of Cuticura, the great Skin Cure. This treatment at once stops falling hair, removes crusts, scales, and dandruff, destroys hair parasites, soothes irritated, itching surfaces, stimulates the hair follicles, loosens the scalp skin, supplies the roots with energy and nourishment, and makes the hair grow upon a sweet, wholesome, healthy scalp when all else fails. Complete external and internal treatment for every humor, from pimples to scrofula, from infancy to age, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, may now be had of all druggists for one dollar. A single set is often sufficient to cure the most distressing cases.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Soap, 25c. Ointment, 50c. and Resolvent, 50c. (in form of Chocolate Coat, 25c. per box of 60). Foster Drug Co. (Inn. City, Mo.) Sole Props., Boston. 40c. Sold for "The Great Humors Cure."

THE LOTTERY OF MARRIAGE

"John my," said Brownlee Wilson, superintendent of the telegraph line, "I hear you're going to be married to the operator at Delhi."

"Yes, sir," I replied, "and I'm going to let the loveliest." A smile on Mr. Wilson's good natured face stopped me.

"There are many 'sayings' in which there is little truth," he said, "but there is one that contains 60 per cent truth—that marriage is a lottery. You're going in for a lottery, John, and you might as well be prepared for either a prize, a blank or a tartar. Sit down and I'll tell you how it happened with me."

"Telegraph operators of opposite sexes made love over the wire when I was a young operator just as they do now. When I was just your age I almost melted the wire with the warm words I sent over it to a girl I'd never seen, though I had her photograph. She was very pretty, and from what she said by telegraph one would suppose her heart wouldn't melt in her mouth. I admired strength of character in a girl, and my only fear for her was that she'd be pretty in my hands."

"One day one of our fellows—Jim Burnett—came to my desk and said to me:

"Brownlee, I've got a girl on the wire, and we've been doing some pretty lively lovemaking. Perhaps you're opposed to that sort of thing."

"Oh, that's all right," I interrupted. "Go on."

"Well, I've got to go away for a couple of weeks, and I'd be obliged if you'd take my place while I'm gone."

"Why not tell her you're going away?" I asked.

"Well, the truth is," he replied in a shamefaced manner, "I'm going to be married to another girl, and I thought perhaps you wouldn't mind."

"Opening the furnace door and letting the fire go out. That's a nice thing to do for a friend. However, you seem to be in for it, and I'll help you all I can."

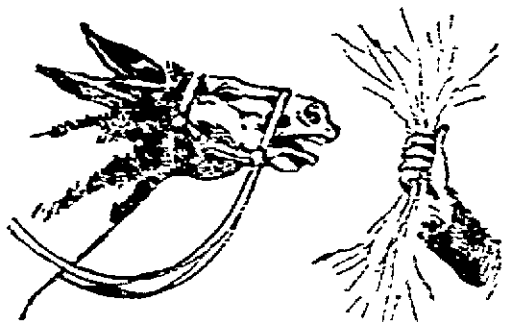

"Jim gave me the private call between him and the girl he was going to jilt and told me I'd be called up between 9 and 11 o'clock at night. Then he went away processing a high appreciation of the favor I was to do him and strong friendship for me. He proved the best friend I ever had, as I'm going to tell you."

"At half past 9 I got the call, sure enough. The girl was different from mine—a practical, sensible woman, and it was easy to see character written in every message she sent me. My talk with her was rather dull to me, for she was planning all the while what she and Jim, as she supposed, were going to do after marriage. Not a bit of that delicious lovemaking that my own girl gave me. However, it was just as well, for if I'd had two girls to talk sweet to it might have tired me."

"The night after Jim went away my own girl sent me word that she was not at all well and was going home. If she didn't call me for some time I mustn't be worried. A nice way to put it, wasn't it? Well, that's the last message I ever got from her. I blush to own that I became so interested in the problems I discussed with Jim's girl as to housekeeping and how to do it on a telegraph operator's income that I soon forgot about the poor sick girl, who might be dying while I was working up an interest in another."

"By the time Jim returned with his bride I had my head full of a pretty little cottage with a few necessary articles of lighted furniture besides those formed from all sorts of articles. One I remember was a chair made of a four barrel. I told Jim of the situation, and he wasn't a bit jealous. Indeed he was greatly relieved and said he was eternally obliged to me."

"Shortly after his return I called on his bride and was struck with her

PERSUADE AN OBSTINATE CASE rather than lash it into action, it is best to go good, proceed, make. This is as true when it is a faulty human system as when it is a faulty machine. Alcoholic stimulants and alcoholic medicines whip the digestive functions into quick action but do not prevent the weakening reaction which follows so closely.

In cases of impaired appetite and digestion—mal-nutrition and wasting away, a safe and reliable tonic is needed and is the one thing that can be relied upon.

Dr. Pierce discovered, forty years ago, that Nature had provided freely for the needs of her children and that in her laboratory were the remedies, Glyceric extracts of Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Sion root, Black Cherrybark, Bledroot and Mandrake root, as prepared, combined and preserved without alcohol, in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, constitute the most effective and certain tonic, alterative and disease-rebelling remedy ever offered to the public.

Prominent merchant, Mr. J. Alfred Arnold, 888 Saint Lawrence Street, Montreal, Canada, writes: "I have used Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery off and on for nine years. When I have it in the house, need no doctor or other remedy. Nine years ago I was troubled with rheumatism. Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' eliminated the ure acid from the system, since that time I have never been without it in the house. There is no other medicine I think so much of, nor none I think it is pleased with the result, and all thank you for advising me to it. It is a splendid remedy for stomach troubles, cures colds in a few days, and is the only sure cure I know of for La Grippe."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper-covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

likeness to the photograph of the girl—I mean my first girl, not Jim's. Then it rushed upon me that she—I mean had been—my girl. I took my pencil and tapped our private call on the table. She started, flamed up, then ran out of the room.

"I didn't say anything to Jim about it. I just let him go on thinking I knew nothing of his wife and after awhile concluded to go and see the girl he had turned over to me. She hadn't seen Jim, and I was to break the news of his marriage to her. I tell you that was the great work of my life—I mean to screw up my courage to tell the whole thing. The girl laughed at me. She had detected the difference between me and Jim the first evening I talked with her and had had a lot of fun out of me."

"Well, Johnny, I've come to the point of my story. As Jim Burnett had married my girl, I married his. His wife turned out to be an extravagant woman, and she ruined him. Then when he was in a hole she abused him and ended by leaving him. In my wife I drew a prize. From the first she had been a practical, common sense woman, fond of me and our children, affectionate, a splendid manager, a dear good woman."

"Shut it off, Mr. Wilson. You're only giving me at one end of a love affair what I gave you at the other. We're all one till we know what we've drawn, and if we draw a prize we never get too old to be maudlin."

He looked at me with a comical expression on his face and then said impressively: "You're right, John. God grant that you have drawn a prize."

I haven't been married long enough to find out whether I have drawn a prize or not, but I'm moving along just the same as if I were certain of it, and that'll help to bring it out the right way.

SUMNER CHILLS.

Buildups a Menace to Health.

The bulldog is a menace to health. We have this on the authority of a noted French physician, who says that because of his large mouth the bulldog is a great purveyor of disease, especially of consumption, diphtheria and the like, as the dribbling from the heavy, loose jaws is incessant. Those who fondle bulldogs do so at a great risk. He traces many cases of infectious disease, especially among young children, to households in which bulldogs are kept as pets. When we add to this the invariable ferocity of the beast, the danger to which children and other innocent and defenseless people are exposed whenever he roams the streets or highways, we have an argument in favor of his disposal that cannot be gainsaid. Away with bulldogs!

If City Slobes Jar You.

Get some spermaceti, roll a wad large enough to fill the ear orifices, put it in a piece of fine cotton cloth tied with thread and insert into ears on retiring, pressing it quite firmly therein so that the ball of spermaceti will closely fill up all the air space in the ears. You will find it quite effective for barring noises, and hence inducing "nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep," to get in its good work. This ear plug is harmless and cheap. It helped me out greatly years ago amid the city's din, my sense of hearing being intensely keen and temperament neurotic. It is worth a trial, and I have no patent on it—New York Herald.

The East Side.

"A city's slums," said a globe trotter, "are always in its eastern quarter. I wonder why? Take New York. Its east side is its slum side. So it is with London. The east end is the slum end. Of Philadelphia, Chicago, Canton and Madrid the same thing holds good. As I know from personal experience. The only possible ground I can give for a city's slums being invariably in its eastern quarter is that this quarter is the one that is exposed to the harsh and unpleasant rigors of the east wind."

Explicit.

"Tell me," requests the young person, entering the study of the gray bearded philosopher, "what is the difference between friendship and love?" The gray bearded philosopher studies the table thoughtfully for a moment or two, then replies: "Friendship, my son, is a mutual understanding; love is a mutual misunderstanding."—Life.

LETTER ON LATEST FASHIONS

THE VOGUE OF SUESINE SILK
WITH FASHIONABLE SLEEVE.

There is no End to the Eccentricity
in Hats, Brims Small, Crowns High.

This is the day of latitude in mode. Dame Fashion smiles upon individuality in dress, offering her votaries many alternatives, and the woman who is not economically attired this season has only herself to blame for it. Of course discretion in the choice of a suitable style is the secret of success, for good dressing is as much a matter of good judgment as anything else.

Importations from every country will help during the coming summer to decorate the woman in quest of richness and beauty of detail. Soft laces, marvelous embroideries, rich silks and priceless plumage will characterize the ensemble.

Fabrics, all but those intended for the sturdiest wear, are thin, soft and light of weight, "summer weight" they are called, although the silks worn in winter were no heavier, and many of them are too thin to be durable, although the acme of all is lovely in weave.

Suesine silk, however, while possessing the richness and suppleness requisite in a silk to merit the name

"fashionable," has the added excellence of durability, and is receiving enthusiastic recognition in its use for the construction of dainty gowns, being artistic and particularly effective, and best of all inexpensive. Being a scientific combination of silk and cotton, Suesine has the appearance of an Oriental hand-loom silk with but a tithe of its cost.

It is a very nice matter and requires a master hand to cut the fashionable skirt of today. On its wearer, although it may be of the softest and most supple material, it has a decided stand out at the hem, and this is accomplished by a gradual flare that begins not far below the hips.

Sleeves are really things of beauty. They have crept up to a large puff between the elbow and armpit, the lower arm covering being in rare instances of lace or shirring on a transparent foundation, but in most gowns there is no sleeve at all below the elbow. Another popular style is formed of three puffs between elbow and shoulder, an excellent model of this sleeve being depicted in my illustration.

There is no end to the eccentricity in hats. Brims are smaller than ever, many of them being less than an inch wide in front, but the crowns are much taller and fuller.

ELAINE ROZE.

Accepted the Estimate.

A widow in a Maine town, according to the Boston Herald, was a strict constructionist in her theology and would admit no lodger into her boarding house who had a leaning toward Universalist views. One day an old sea captain happened along to ask for rooms.

"But what do you believe?" asked the widow.

"Oh, most anything," replied the captain.

"Do you believe there is a hell?"

"Sure," was the reply.

"Well," parried the widow, "how many do you think will go there?"

The captain cautiously remarked that he thought 20,000 would be a fair estimate.

The widow paused, then stated that he could come in. "Twenty thousand," she said, "is better than none."

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening, and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

M. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cures me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

THE FAMOUS TWO ROCKS

THE SWIMMING HOLE OF THE GETTYSBURG BOYS.

Some Thoughts and Things of Rock Creek and What it is and Has Been to the Boys.

School days are over, then the happy, merry boys and girls shout, summer days and vacation are on them, the days they have longingly looked forward to for many months, the days they have cheered themselves toward. They have planned and planned what they were going to do with those days and before they know it they had the days and had forgotten the plans. Ah, those first vacation days, and just listen to the girls saying they are having a fine time and the boys asserting that they are having a bully time. They are days packed to the limit with sunshine and freedom, the memory of which will linger as long as life lasts.

As soon as the sun warms the water enough the boys, singly and collectively will go to the creek just as naturally as a duck takes to water. The boy of Gettysburg mostly goes to Rock Creek, while he plans of another day he will go to Marsh or Conowingo Creeks.

Remember those first spacy days of spring when you went to the creek when the water was cold. How the boys would stand around, first on one foot, then the other, or jump up and down, getting up courage for the first plunge. How they gitted their teeth as they jumped into the water. How they came up blowing and spluttering and in a short time were chattering. How they sometimes got a blue shade with cold. But the boy of today does just as the boy of yesterday did, tries the creek over and over again until the coldness has worn off and the water is invitingly warm and he splashes and sports in it and never knows when he has enough. And then goes home with an air as though he had not seen the creek for a month, and is almost ready to swear he had not been near, though his hair is plastered down to his skull with creek water.

Gettysburg has had several spots that the boys of several generations have called their own and if their is one spot more special their very own it is Two Rocks, pictured on first page. It is to be regretted that McAllister's dam has never been repaired since its last breaking, for the whole creek of today bears little resemblance to the creek of thirty years ago, or of battle days.

Before the dam broke the very small boys waded and washed in Pete Foot's Ocean, pretending they were swimming. They stirred up the mud until the water was yellow, crawling and wallowing over the muddy bottom of the ocean. The leeches were a diversion at this point, and how a boy would splash when he found that one had become fastened to his body.

Could not take long for the little boys to graduate from the primary school at Pete Foot's Ocean to Two Rocks, the favorite resort for the half grown boy. Two Rocks. Is there a man in town who has ever been a boy here, or is there a boy in town, who couldn't find Two Rocks with his eyes shut.

In the long ago the beaten path of the boy led down past the Reformed church, across Weinbreuner's Run, then up the first hill along the fence, then down over the next run and on past the Third Swamp to Two Rocks just beyond, or if the boy did not take the path through Third Swamp he could follow on down the woods to the dam. The track of the boy was so well marked that it stayed year after year. In telling the Culp farm the path of the boy was remembered and not torn up with the plow.

The boy of to-day has an easier route. He takes to the Avenue at Middle street and midway between the second and third bridges he hikes over a fence and following a beaten path up a short hill and down the other side he reaches the spot he calls his own Two Rocks.

Two Rocks still bears some resemblance to the Two Rocks of a generation ago. If McAllister's dam was in shape, it would look more natural and would be a better place for the boys. But the rocks are there, the rocks the boys strew their clothes over, the rocks they jump on and the rocks they stand on while they dry themselves with their handkerchiefs. The Two Rocks still hold sway. The boys still leap from them into the water. They have a long rope now which swings from a limb of a tree and in and out they swing until they let go dropping into the water with a splash.

We know the boy who did the trick for our camera as shown in the picture but we are not going to tell his name. It is the same boy who has been doing such things year after year. He may have one name one year, another some other year, but he is the boy always in possession of Two Rocks.

On some real warm day Two Rocks will be crowded with the boys, big and little and with hides all kinds of colors. The new boy with the white hide the sun has had little chance at will be along-side of the boy who is almost copper colored with the paint of sunshine. They are doing all the things the boys have been doing for years. Skinning out of clothes, drawing beef or knotty shoe strings, and shirts, slapping on the rocks like frogs, jumping into the water, splashing, swimming, playing tricks and having a general good time as boys know how to have. A dozen or two heads will often be seen bobbing around in the creek.

Two Rocks holds sway to-day when other former bathing and swimming points have disappeared. There was a time when the boy was too big for Two Rocks and he went with the big boys to the Swimming Hole further down the creek. There the water was almost up to the neck and at places over head. There he could dive from the rock. But Swimming Hole has disappeared. One of the rocks has been split to pieces, and the water would hardly come up as far as the knee. Or perhaps the big boy of yesterday went on to the dam where there was another point where men were sometimes found swimming with the big boys. The dam was a sort of high school on Rock Creek. You were then ready for some of the dams on Marsh Creek.

Rock Creek of to-day can not be to day what it was to the boy of yesterday before the dam broke. The water was backed for several miles. Why in those days in winter a boy could put on his skates at Students' Channel near the bridge on the Harrisburg road and skate to the dam and would only have to walk around two or three miles. Now he would be doing more walking around dry places than skating.

If Uncle Sam should take a notion to make Rock Creek look like it did when Johnson's men had to wade it, what a cinch the boy of Gettysburg of today would have. If the ghosts of Johnson's men should arise and go to wading again they would be surprised for they could go over now on dry land.

Jamestown Exposition.

The Jamestown Exposition celebrates the three hundredth anniversary of the first permanent settlement of English-speaking people in America. Jamestown, Virginia, was founded May 13, 1607, by one hundred and three pioneers, who proceeded at once to convert a forest into a village. They cut trees, built log cabins, and planted grain.

They passed through periods of incredible suffering and fair prospects, until finally they established themselves permanently in the New World. Before 1619, the colony of Virginia included many settlements along the James River and on the peninsula between the James and the York, and during the month of June that year a legislature, elected by popular suffrage, convened at Jamestown.

This House of Burgesses was not only the first American legislature, but it held its first session more than one year before the Pilgrims' landing. Jamestown was the cradle of the Republic and the United States, imperial as it is, may be said to be an elaboration of Jamestown, for the principles promulgated there have entered into the moulding of the American Constitution. The Jamestown Exposition will celebrate historically the evolution of the country from 1607 to 1907, opening April 29, 1907, and closing Dec. 1, 1907.

Birthday Party.

On Wednesday evening May 16th., a very pleasant birthday party was given for Miss Beulah Powers at her home near Gettysburg, the evening was very pleasantly spent with music by the organ and phonograph, also by the singing and at a convenient hour all were invited to the dining room for refreshments.

Those present were: Mrs. L. M. Sowers, M. H. Sowers and wife, Carrie Haugh, Bertha Frazer, Grace Strie, Rose, Beulah Sowers, Jennie and Ross McSherry, Mr. W. O. Davis, Frothingham, Mr. Miller, Pittsburgh, Pa. Mr. Tenney, Kentland, Pa. Mr. Mervin Little, Harrisburg, Pa. Messrs. Frank Patterson, Charles and Russell Frazer, Harry and Oscar Brian, and Messrs. Edward McSherry, Mr. H. Tenney of Gettysburg.

HEAVY BRAINS.

They Are Not Necessarily the Most Intellectual Ones.

Other factors besides brain weight are known to influence intelligence. It has long been known that the distinguishing character of the human brain is the large number of connecting fibers, by which its cells are co-ordinated. In no other species are they so numerous or complicated. The cells constitute but a very small part of the weight. There is now considerable evidence that the same rule applies among individual men, and that those of great intelligence have more connections, so that their cells can do more and better "team work."

Some investigations have shown the corpus callosum to have a large cross section in men who had shown great ability. It is also known that the brains of able men are likely to present more convolutions and deeper ones than the average, as though there were more brain cells as well as more connections. A few observations in the lower races point to the fact that their brains are essentially different in microscopic organizations, partly accounting for less intelligence. All these facts will fully explain why men of intelligence in the higher races may have brains not notably heavy, but they do not disprove the general statement that as a class such men do possess heavier brains than the average.

The mistake arises from the failure to recognize that noted men who have shown intellectual power not infrequently were sharply limited to one or two directions, being very defective in other directions. Blind Tom is an idiot, in fact, an extreme case of what is quite common. At the other extreme was Gambetta, who was not much more than an orator, whose cerebral speech centers were found to be highly developed. The rest of his brain was small, and his general intellectual power and judgments were decidedly defective. Ability in one or two lines may make a man famous, while he is really very defective and his brain proves to be small.

Heavy brains are not necessarily intellectual ones, or elephants would be in the class of geniuses. The material might also be pathologic and the possessor an imbecile. It often happens that men of big brain and great ability suffer from early neglect and are found in lowly employments or may remain ignorant through life. These few facts do not prove that large brains are worthless and not indicative of mental power as a rule. We cannot get away from the fact that man as an animal is supreme because of his large brain; that among races the brainiest are the highest and that in any one race the most intelligent, as a rule, are those who have the most brains.

Men of small brains are not the leaders, and no statistics of the brain weights of a few exceptional men noted for limited abilities can reverse the rule. Universities do not create brains, but merely train what exist, so that the owners are better fitted for the battle of life. Many a man is sent to college who should be handling a pick and shovel, and be never amounts to much, even though he subsequently makes his living at some very limited specialty.—American Medicine.

A Crasher.

There is a prominent official in Washington, a frequent diner at the hotels, who is most fastidious in his ideas with respect to the service rendered by waiters. One afternoon this official, feeling somewhat under the weather, decided to omit his usual substantial lunch and to substitute therefor some light refreshment. As he entered the cafe of a fashionable hotel, a new waiter, with the grandest of manners, hastened forward to take the hat and coat of the official. He then assumed the blandest of expressions and awaited the order. Scarcely glancing at the bill of fare, the official said: "Bring me a milk toast." The waiter heard, but remained motionless, all attention to hear the rest of the anticipated order. "That's all I want," said the official, "hurry up!"

The waiter went away with disappointment and contempt stamped upon every feature of his haughty countenance. The official had not failed to observe the disposition of the waiter; so he decided not to give his usual generous fee. The waiter, after considerable delay, slowly returned with the toast. As he laid it down, he also placed the bill upon the table—a check for 25 cents, the price of the modest dish.

"That's a small check," he remarked superciliously.

"Yes," said the official dryly, "it would have been 50 cents at a first class house."—American Spectator.

An Envied Editor.

John Black, for many years editor of the London Morning Chronicle, prided himself on being a judge of men. His pride was justified by the fact that he secured the services of many very able contributors. Mr. Black was noted for his independence and contented spirit, both of which are illustrated by the following story:

Mr. Black was in the habit of calling on Lord Melbourne, then at the head of the government, who one day said to him in his abrupt way: "Mr. Black, you are the only person who comes to see me who forgets who I am. You forget that I am prime minister."

Black was stammering out an apology when Lord Melbourne continued: "You never ask me for anything, and I wish you would."

"I am truly obliged to you," answered Black, "but I don't want anything. I am editor of the Morning Chronicle. I like my business, and I live happily on my income."

"Then, sir, I envy you!" exclaimed the premier. "And you are the only man I ever did envy."

HAPPY WOMEN.

Wouldn't any woman be happy, after years of backache suffering, days of misery, nights of unrest, the distress of urinary troubles, to find relief and cure? No reason why any reader should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Almina A. Jackson, of East Front St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "For twenty years I was doctoring for kidney and liver trouble, but without benefit. Just before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was almost paralyzed. I could hardly stand on my feet because of the numbness and lack of circulation. Had a knife been thrust into my kidneys the pain could not have been more intense. My sleep was disturbed by visions of distorted figures. The kidney secretions were annoyingly irregular, and I was tortured with thirst and always bloated. I used seven boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. The bloating subsided until I weighed 100 pounds less, could sleep like a child and was relieved of the pain and the irregularity of the kidney action. My circulation is good and I feel better in every way."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Jackson will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-McMunn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

Year $1.50

Gettysburg, Pa., Wednesday, May 30 1906

AS TO BERRY FOR GOVERNOR.

The Compiler will enthusiastically support the ticket to be named by the Democratic State Convention next month, but hopes that Democracy will not nominate William H. Berry for Governor. We hold in highest esteem and respect State Treasurer William H. Berry. He is a good man, doing a good work. Just as we believed that Justice Stewart's place was on Bench to which the people elected him, so do we believe that Wm. H. Berry's place is as Watch Dog of the State Treasury to which the people elected him. The battle cry of last year was turn out the corrupt machine and make Honest Wm. H. Berry Treasurer to clean the Augean stables. We hope to see Mr. Berry complete the work the people elected him to do. That well done Governorship may come later. This year Ex-Mayor Vance McCormick or some other good Democrat, should make the fight for clean, honest administration.

Base Ball News.

The College Base Ball team plays two games with Lebanon-Valley College today. Decoration Day, one at 10 o'clock in the morning and one at 3 o'clock in the afternoon after exercises at Cemetery. The team has been doing great work this season. See them add two more winning games to their record.

The Philadelphia Athletics played in hard luck last week with Cleveland Eddie Plank made a visit home but he got back to pitch the game on Wednesday, winning it by score of 4 to 3.

Pitcher Durham, otherwise 'Blondy' Staub of Mesberry-town who was recently released by Altoona Club of the Tri-State League signed last week with Lancaster of the same league and won his first game, with York on Wednesday by score of 8 to 4.

The second team of College played Littlestown team at Littlestown on Saturday afternoon and lost by score of 11 to 13.

Farmers' Institutes.

The County Board of Farmers' Institute Managers will meet at the County Commissioners' office on the second Tuesday of June to arrange for the place where Institutes are to be held this season. All of our people who desire Institutes ought to attend this meeting and present their claims. This board is composed of the local members of the State Board of Agriculture and one representative from each County Agricultural Society, the Pomona Grange and County Alliance. If you find that you cannot attend this meeting address a letter with your request to Chairman of Board of Institute Manager, care of County Commissioners.

Court Notes.

The following court business was disposed of at chambers last week.

C. Wm. Troxel was appointed guardian of Belle L. Strickhouser, minor grandchild of George W. Strickhouser late of Gettysburg.

John Jacobs, Wm. Jacobs and Geo. Hykes were discharged as executors of will of William Jacobs, late of Straban township.

The sale of real estate of James Reaver, late of Highland township, consisting of 73 acres in said township, to Isaac H. Weikert on May 26 for $2650 was confirmed.

Prohibition State Ticket.

The Prohibition State Convention last week nominated the following ticket.

For Governor, State Treasurer William H. Berry.

For Lieut. Governor, Homer L. Castle of Pittsburgh.

For Auditor General, Representative William T. Creasy, Columbia county.

For Secretary of Internal Affairs, Elisha A. Ceray, Luzerne County.

The only Prohibitionist on ticket is Homer L. Castle, the rest are Democrats.

Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Radically and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and other digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.

Accept no substitute for Hood's.

"I had dyspepsia twenty-five years and took different medicines but got no help until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Have taken four bottles of this medicine and can now eat almost anything, sleep well, have no cramps in my stomach, no burning and no distress." Mrs. WILLIAM G. BARNETT, 14 Olney St., Providence, R. I. Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

HIGH SCHOOL EXERCISES

EXERCISES IN BRUA CHAPEL ON LAST THURSDAY EVENING

Nine Graduates Make Speeches, Prizes Awarded. Prof. Charles Huber makes Address.

The graduating class in the High School receiving diplomas at the Commencement exercises in Brua Chapel on last Thursday evening contained 9 members, three girls and six boys. Elizabeth Weaver and Bailey Kandlehart in general course, Rebecca Drum and Guy McCarney in college preparatory course, Mabel Thorn, Robert Armor, Luther Bream, Raymond Dillfield and John Topper in commercial course.

Rev. Dr. T. J. Barkley opened the exercises with Prayer.

Rebecca Drum delivered the salutatory, taking as her theme "Make Believe," following ideals.

Louis Topper spoke on "The Founder of Dutch Liberties, William the Silent."

Guy McCarney recited "The Combat" between Sir Kenneth of Scotland and Conrad of Austria.

Raymond Dillfield had as his subject "The Unequal View of the Relation between Employer and Employee."

Luther Bream presented "The Human View of the Relation between Employer and Employee."

Mabel Thorn read the essay on "The Town Meeting, A Democratic Institution," which won the $5 prize of the local chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution.

Bailey Kandlehart took for theme of his speech the motto of class "Success is Born of Resolution."

Robert Armor had charge of the distribution of gifts and the hits created much amusement. To Mabel Thorn was given a small Dutchman, to Rebecca Drum a cucumber, to Elizabeth Weaver a large hat and hat pin, to Louis Topper a bottle of soothing syrup to Raymond Dillfield a mustache, to Guy McCarney a pocket book, to Bailey Kandlehart a pop gun, to Luther Bream a bag of wind and Raymond Dillfield gave Robt. Armor a pipe.

Elizabeth Weaver delivered the valedictory, taking as her subject "A Wonderful Year."

The speeches occurred in three sections and between the blocks the College Orchestra played selections and were enthusiastically applauded.

Prof. Charles Huber addressed the graduates on the conflicts of life and how they prepare for the larger life.

Mrs. D. P. McPherson, regent of Gettysburg Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, presented the prize of $5 to Mabel Thorn and said Guy McCarney and Raymond Dillfield were entitled to honorable mention.

Miss Louise Stahle, president of Alumni Association, presented the prizes of that body, $5 and $3 for the first and second place in class to Elizabeth Weaver and Rebecca Drum respectively.

Prof. Book presented faculty prize of $3 for the best speller to Mabel Thorn. He stated that those in class having an average of 90 or above and on honor roll were Elizabeth Weaver, Rebecca Drum, Mabel Thorn and Raymond Dillfield. He added the record of all in class was so excellent that all deserved to be on roll of honor.

Dr. T. C. Billheimer presented the diplomas to graduates and exercises came to a close with benediction by Dr. Billheimer.

Letter to Adam Minter.

Gettysburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: If our agents charges you 10 cents more for a gallon of paint than somebody else, don't think he is making more profit; we charge him more; it costs us more. It is all paint, true paint and full measure.

No other paint is all paint, true paint, and full-measure, so far as we know. That is wrong. We know some that are pure and full measure, but weak, thin, too much oil and too little lead-and-zinc, an honest sort of weakness; don't know any better, may be.

It amounts to this: so far as we know; and we think we know the whole American trade, there is no other name but Devco that stands for all paint, full-measure, and right proportion. That's why it takes less gallons and wears longer.

Yours truly F. W. Devco & Co.

P. S.—Thomas J. Winebrenner sells our paint.

An Appeal.

On April 5th Mr. Hawkins asked the kind and benevolent citizens of Gettysburg for financial support to buy medicine with. Now he has to come again for he is in a bad way, much worse than before, his landlord having asked him to pay up the rent.

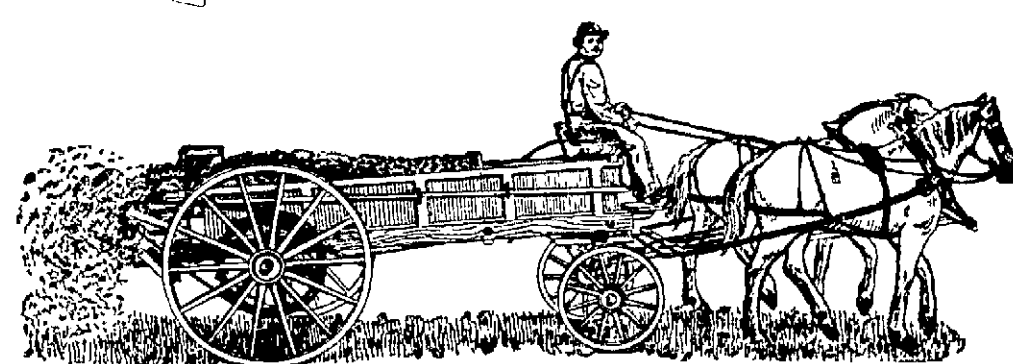

I want to pay up my back rent and get cheaper quarters, for I cannot earn one cent. My voice is entirely gone and I can only take liquid food, such as eggs, sugar and milk beat up together. Most of the time I have not the money to pay for that, will you kind people come to my aid.

Those who came to my aid before are Friend $5, Lady $2, C. Stahle $2, J. Tawney $1.50, D. Reidner $1.50, Honorable C. L. $5, E. Walhey Bendersville $2, three Professors on Carlisle St. $3, Professor Sowers 25 cts., Professor Himes $0, Ladies Aid to G. A. R. $1.

Please leave what you contribute at the "Star & Sentinel" or the GETTYSBURG COMPILER Office, or at my home.

J. I. CASE EDGE DROP CORN PLANTER. "Half the Crop is in the Drop."

This planter is so simple in operation and so accurate that by actual test it has dropped nearly 300 hills of 3 grains each without a skip, and the corn was not specially selected.

J. I. CASE CHECK ROW EDGE DROP CORN PLANTER

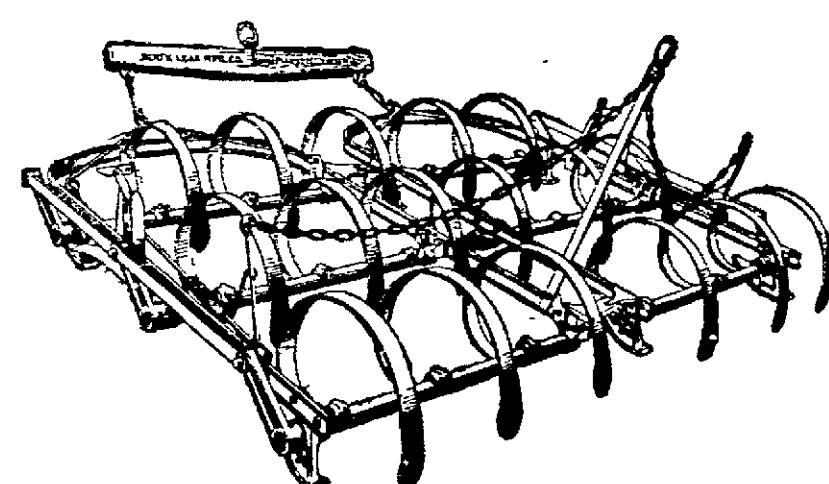

possesses all the good points known to the art. This planter is not an experiment, but has stood the practical test of field use and planted thousands of acres in a manner entirely satisfactory to many farmers. We are positive that any farmer who will try this planter will pronounce it superior to any other he ever used. We guarantee them to be satisfactory.

THE STUDEBAKER WAGON

which we handle exclusively, is the best farm wagon made.

HARNESS

of all kinds, Heavy Farm Harness, Double Harness, etc. We have a special set of Single Harness with Nickel Mounting which we want to introduce in this county and for this season only we have made the price $8.99. You will find this harness to be all that we claim for it, a good durable well-finished set of harness.

The Allbright Cultivator

This cultivator has been designed to cultivate corn, potatoes, beans, beets, cabbage, etc.

Here is the testimony of a man who has an Allbright cultivator: "My cultivator has proven a success to me. I think there is no better make in the market for handy use and durability. Have used mine six years; have not had one cent's worth of expense. Plant corn and potatoes from 10 to 20 acres every year and work it from three to five times. Would not trade for some of the new ones that my neighbors have and half the price of theirs to boot. Can set mine any depth I would desire it to run. Very much pleased with the machine."

We guarantee this cultivator to be superior in every way to any other cultivator sold in Adams county.

ALL OVER THE COUNTY

MEETING OF THE WALTER L. T. LEGION.

A Convention of the Loyal Temperance Legions of Adams County Proposed.

The Walter Loyal Temperance Legion of Sunnyside held an alumni meeting at the home of Mrs. Geo. P. Myers near Flora Dale, Saturday evening, May 19. A number of business problems occupied the members during the earlier part of the meeting, among which was the report of committee on the series of meetings held for Mrs. Cora Seaberry who certainly is an inspiration to any community which she visits. The alumni think well of having a county L. T. L. convention if it can be arranged. A letter from Mrs. Elma M. Preston, state superintendent of Legion work, was read. She asks all legioners to make a special effort during the coming year. The Legion year begins with the state convention in June. It meets this year at New Castle on the western border of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Preston asks the graduates to be very faithful in paying their dues and to do their best to establish junior Legions in new places.

The hope was expressed that if the county convention was held, all graduates of Adams county and friends of the cause should attend the meeting of which due notice will be given.

The literature department has distributed 1-2 pages of mercy leaflets since last meeting. Flower mission has sent 116 violet bouquets, 75 text cards tied with red and white ribbon, the Legion colors, and about a bushel of lilac blossoms to the Harrisburg hospital. "Cassandra Southwick" by J. G. Whittier, was read as the literary part of the meeting.

It was decided, if possible, to have a varied program for next meeting and devote the collection to the Japan sufferers.

This meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Florence G. Michner the third Saturday evening in June.

Fortunate Missourians.

"When I was a druggist, at Livonia, Mo.," writes T. J. Byner, now of Graysonville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery, and are well and strong today. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using New Discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence." Surest Cough and Cold Cure and Throat and Lung healer. Guaranteed by all druggists. 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free.

It is said there were farmers who planted corn this year with overcoat and mittens on.

Postmaster Robbed.

G. W. Fouts, Postmaster at River-ton, Ia., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For 20 years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters, which cured me and have kept me well for eleven years." Sure cure for Biliousness, Neuralgia, Weakness and all Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bladder derangements. A wonderful tonic. At all druggists. 50 cents.

The head of Marian Sowers flew off while peeling bark last week and struck Charles M. Lerew on collar bone, cutting a deep gash.

He Laughed Last.

A certain lady who wished to have some fun at the expense of an agent who had oftentimes solicited her to insure herself and family, asked him on one occasion if he would insure the cat. The agent, to the astonishment and no small amusement of some friends, promptly offered to do so, provided she paid the first premium down. The lady, still thinking to hoax him, expressed her willingness to do so, and placed a shilling on the table. The agent quickly produced a proposal, filled it in and obtained her signature while those present were on the tip of expectancy as to what was to follow.

"Now, madam, with your permission, may I see the cat?"

"Certainly," she replied, at the same time pointing to a glass case which contained the stuffed remains of the poor defunct cat.

A chorus of derisive laughter burst from all present, but to their dismay the agent turned, bowed politely, at the same time picking up the shilling, and exclaimed:

"When that cat dies, madam, kindly call at our office and claim the insurance money. Good morning."—London Telegraph.

The First Stove.

The most important uses of fire were taught by fire itself. As the primitive man stood near the flames of the burning tree and felt their pleasant glow he learned that fire may add to bodily comfort, and when the flames swept through a forest and overtook a deer and baked it he learned that fire might be used to improve the quality of his food. The hint was not lost. He took a burning torch to his cave or hut and kindled him a fire on his floor of earth. His dwelling filled with smoke, but he could endure the discomfort for the sake of the fire's warmth and for the sake of the toothsome of the cooked meats. After a time a hole was made in the roof of the hut, and through this hole the smoke passed out. Here was the first stove. The primitive stove was the entire house, the floor was the fireplace and the hole in the roof was the chimney. The word "stove" originally meant "a heated room." So that if we should say that at first people lived in their stoves we would say that which is literally true.—St. Nicholas.

Practical Diagnostic Sign of Death.

Dr. Ott of Lillebonne (through Journal des sciences medicales de Lille) suggests the following practical and simple method of ascertaining whether or not life is present: The point selected is the forearm, which is quickly accessible, is free from hair and is easily exposed. The arm is extended horizontally from the body and the forearm pronated. If the test is made in the open air a cloak is held so as to shield the part from all motion of the atmosphere. The flame of a candle is now directly applied to a spot on the forearm, which is closely watched by the observer. At the end of a few seconds a swelling rapidly forms and bursts. If it contains air or gas the tissues are lifeless. If it contains liquid or exudation life is present.

"Man in the Street."

Emerson was not the first to use this phrase in his "Conduct of Life," which was published in 1860. In the first series of the "Greville Memoirs," under date March 22, 1830, occurs the following passage:

"Then will come the question of a dissolution, which one side affirms will take place directly, and the other that the king will not consent to it, knowing, as 'the man in the street' (as we call him at Newmarket) always does, the greatest secrets of kings and being the confidant of their most hidden thoughts."

It would appear from this that the expression was in common use among racing men in 1830.—Notes and Queries.

The Drama of the Sunset.

We never tire of the drama of sunset. I go forth each afternoon and look into the west a quarter of an hour before sunset with fresh curiosity to see what new picture will be painted there, what new phenomenon exhibited, what new dissolving views. Every day a new picture is painted and framed, held up for half an hour in such lights as the great artist chooses and then withdrawn and the curtain falls. The sun goes down, long the afterglow gives light, the damask curtains glow along the western window, the first star is lit, and I go home.—From Thea's "Winter."

Power of Words.

Words have not their import from the natural power of particular combinations of characters or from the real efficacy of certain sounds, but from the consent of those who use them and arbitrarily annex certain ideas to them, which might have signified with equal propriety by any other.—Oliver Cromwell.

Persistence.

The way to reach or to attain to anything is to lead oneself toward it with all one's might, and we approximate it just in proportion to the intensity and the persistency of our effort to attain it.—Success Magazine.

A Hard Cut.

Mrs. Newcut—I am thinking of taking a short holiday and visiting some of the scenes associated with my ancestors. Mrs. De Bleu Blood-Cutting—Oh, but slumbers is so horribly out of date nowadays!

Where to Have a Boil.

Thomas Bailey Aldrich, commenting once upon the trials of Job, remarked that the only proper place to have a boil was between "John" and "O'Dell."

Letters From the People.

Phillips, Me. May 1, 1902. A few years ago I chilled my blood from which I suffered greatly. I have been using Baxter's Mandrake Bitters and find it just what I have been looking for. It has helped me more than any other medicine yet. I can say that anyone who gives Baxter's Mandrake Bitters a trial will not afterwards be without it.

Mrs. MARY GINTER of Berwick township has been taken to a hospital near Baltimore for treatment.

It is possible to obtain relief from chronic indigestion and dyspepsia by the use of KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA. Some of the most hopeless cases of long standing have yielded to it. It enables you to digest the food you eat and exercises a corrective influence, building up the efficiency of the digestive organs. The stomach is the boiler wherein the steam is made that keeps up your vitality, health and strength. Kodol digests what you eat. Makes the stomach sweet—puts the boiler in condition to do the work nature demands of it—gives you relief from digestive disorders, and puts you in shape to do your best, and feel your best. Sold by L. M. Buehler.

ON recent Sunday evening some evil disposed person cut the rubber tire from one of the wheels of John Wible's buggy at Two Taverns church.

A good complexion is impossible with the stomach out of order. If pasty sallow people would pay more attention to their stomachs and less to the skin on their faces, they would have better complexions. KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA will digest what you eat and put your stomach back in right shape to do its own work. Kodol relieves palpitation of the heart, flatulence, sour stomach, heart burn, etc. Sold by L. M. Buehler.

Mrs. GEORGE WALDRICH of Latimore township is the owner of a cactus plant now bearing 131 flowers.

The Rise in the River.

It is little short of astonishing to see how little water is required to float the southern river steamers, a boat loaded with perhaps a thousand bales of cotton slipping along contentedly where a boy could walk across the stream. Once, however, the Chattahoochee got too low for even her light draft commerce, and at Genoa a steamer grounded. As the drinking water on board needed replenishing, a deck hand was sent ashore with a couple of water buckets. Just at this moment a northern traveler approached the captain of the boat, and asked him how long he thought they would have to stay there.

"Oh, only until that man gets back with a bucket of water to pour into the river," the captain replied. Presently the deck hand returned, and the stale water from the cooler was emptied overboard. Instantly, to the amazement of the traveler, the boat began to move.

"Well, if that doesn't beat thunder!" he gasped.

The fact was that the boat, touching the bottom, had acted as a dam, and there was soon backed up behind her enough water to lift her over the shoal and send her on down the stream.—Harper's Weekly.

A Remarkable Career.

General Sam Houston was not only a great Texan, but probably the most striking and commanding figure which has yet appeared in the public life of the far southwest—born in Virginia, taken to Tennessee at an early age, whence, while yet in his teens, he went to war with Andrew Jackson against the Creek Indians; desperately wounded in the battle of the Horseshoe Bend; adjutant general of Tennessee and a representative in congress from that state; governor of Tennessee in his youth; married, separated from his wife in two months, resigning immediately as governor, self exiled for years among the Cherokee Indians, emigrating to Texas in 1832; member of the convention of 1836, which declared Texas to be an independent republic; general and commander in chief of the army which achieved independence at San Jacinto; twice president of the republic, United States senator and governor of the state.—C. A. Culbertson in Scribner's.

John Doe Proceedings.

"John Doe" proceedings were abolished by law in Great Britain in 1852. Previous to that time John Doe had figured in the old fashioned ejectment action for the recovery of the possession of land, together with damages for the wrongful withholding thereof. For various reasons of convenience and history dating from the reign of Edward III. A did not proceed against B directly in such a case. Instead A delivered to B an entirely false statement from the fictitious "John Doe" that A had devised the land to "John" for a term of years, and "John" had been ousted from it by the equally fictitious "Richard Roe." Then Richard informed B that he was not going to defend the action himself, but B must do it, and so on. Occasionally, by way of variety, "John Doe" gave place to one "Goodfellow."

Columbia River Thrice Named.

THE Columbia river has had three names. It was first called the Oregon. Afterward it was called the St. Roque, but when it was discovered by Robert Gray in 1792 it was given the name of his vessel, the Columbia, in place of the two floating appellations, Oregon and St. Roque. According to Whitney, the original name of the river was the Oregon, "big ear" or "one that has big ears," the allusion being to the custom of the Indians who were found in its region of stretching their ears by boring them and crowding them with ornaments.

Why Is It?

Here is a question in naval science which is to the average sailor man a riddle unsolved. Take a vessel of, say, 2,500 tons; place on it a cargo of 3,500 tons. This gives you a total of 6,000 tons. Hitch a little tug to this vessel, and she will rank the big craft along at the rate of six or eight knots an hour. Now put the tug's machinery in the big vessel. It won't move her half a knot an hour. Why is this?

An Injured Tongue.

Nothing is more alarming than a severe injury to the tongue. It sometimes happens that in falling a little child will bite its tongue completely through, so that the teeth meet and the mouth is filled with blood. Such an accident is not so serious as it appears. The month heals quickly, the saliva forming a natural remedy better than any which man has invented or discovered. But to assist nature and stop the flow of blood is certainly important. The simplest way to do this is by sprinkling finely sifted flour into the cut. A child can be coaxed to submit to this treatment if the flour be mixed with powdered sugar.

Nerves.

Along the nerve lines here are some little nerve facts. When you feel dainty don't try to talk. When you feel overwrought keep still. When you are blue don't make it worse by using up your nerve force. Keep still. Try to listen. Remember that the popular woman in any society, in the home or abroad, is the woman who says little, but who listens much. It is so the world over. The leader is not the one who bosses, but the one who listens to the others and says only a little.
